Call for Volunteers

WGNE (Western Ghats Nature Foundation) is inviting passionate and committed volunteers who are interested in learning about nature within the unique landscapes of the Western Ghats. This opportunity focuses particularly on documenting biodiversity in agro-ecosystems, contributing to meaningful scientific research and conservation efforts.

Volunteer Requirements

- A graduate degree in Science (prior experience in biological surveys is a plus)
- Highly motivated and willing to work in remote field locations
- Strong commitment to practicing scientific methods and field methodologies

This is an excellent opportunity for individuals eager to gain hands-on experience in biodiversity documentation and ecological research while contributing to conservation in one of the world's most important biodiversity hotspots.

Interested candidates can write to wgnfoundation@gmail.com

Join us in exploring, learning, and conserving the rich biodiversity of the Western Ghats!
